Morning sessions

We welcome you to the morning session in the baroque Winter Riding School! Gain insights into the training of the stallions.

You'll be able to watch the training of young, often still grey stallions, as well as of already highly trained school stallions – our "white stars" – in the imperial ambience of the baroque Winter Riding School, accompanied by classical Viennese music. Training the horses includes loosening exercises, refining and perfecting lessons and targeted strengthening of their muscles. Each stallion is trained according to his individual level, up to advanced skills lessons.
